Explore the evolving role of orthobiologics in shoulder surgery with this PIONEER webinar, organised by the SICOT Shoulder & Elbow Committee in partnership with ICRS (International Cartilage Regeneration & Joint Preservation Society) NextGen Committee.

Under the theme 'Orthobiologics in Shoulder Surgery: Evidence, Innovation and Joint Preservation', five international faculty will deliver four talks exploring biological principles, rotator cuff healing, cartilage preservation and early glenohumeral arthritis, alongside regenerative strategies for early humeral head AVN and the role of BMAC.

The session concludes with an interactive, case-based panel discussion, 'Clinical decision making: who, what & when?', connecting evidence and innovation with practical treatment decisions.
